time you forfeit 1# of fish from your 5 fish total bag weight. Another angler, Jeff Miller on day #1 of the Lake St. Clair Tournament came in 2 minutes late and Page 20 was penalized from 22# down to 20#. He said a gas attendant spent 5 minutes trying to read his credit card on his way back to Lake St. Clair Metropark! This put him in 8th place for the day instead of tied for 1st. He ended up in 14th place (instead of 12th) at the end of the tournament; and those 2 minutes cost him $553 in winnings. During a Pro FLW final big 2014 tournament "the Forest Wood" ... the winner won $500,000... 2nd place won a measly $60k and was only 2 ounces under the winner.... every ounce can count!

Another one time rookie mistake Gerald shared... There are two live wells in his bass boat. His co-angler during a tournament put one of his fish inside Gerald's live well.

Gerald noticed not too long after there were 6 fish in his live well. He called the judges to ask what the rules were.... He had to "cull" - dump out ALL of the fish and start again.

Gerald said he sees his family more now than when he played football... and he loves to take his kids fishing. His goal is to fish in the Bassmaster Classic - the big daddy tournament for bass pros (which pays out $300,000 to the winner). Gerald wears his team jersey on his bass boat so he is easy to spot.... keep an eye out for him!
